

Privacy Statement

We use your data to help you become more successful. We know that the desire to hire an external advisory & marketing services firm like Forte builds over time. That's why we intend to inform you every now and then, after you accept our privacy statement. We try to keep that information as useful for your business as possible. Feel free to feedback your opinion to us about the information you receive from us.

When you want us to change your data, or delete them, send an e-mail to info@forte.eu. Same e-mail address can be used to inspect the data that we keep in our records.
